Wide Variety Of Pets to Be Seen at Show

Parade at 2 to End Up at High School For Exhibit

Alligators and cockatoos, 'coons and chinchilla cats, Shetland ponies and thoroughbred horses, Pekinese and Great Dane dogs, canaries and ducks, chickens and pigeons, huge frog and wildcat, ferrets and parrots—all will be exhibited in Saturday's Pet Show and Parade.

The parade, which will start at 2 o'clock instead of at 1 as earlier decided, will have in it approximately 25 floats, three bands, a drum corps, approximately 40 horses, many of them prize blue bloods, and a half dozen novel entries, nature of which will not be disclosed until the event begins. Start of the march will be made at Heller street. From there, under leadership of W. H. Moulthrop as marshal, the line of march will be down Main to Broadway and out Broadway past the entrance to the high school baseball grounds, where the parade will disband after turning left on Elwood.

During the afternoon at the show, at least two dogs will be given away, one by the Humane Society and one, a collie, by the Occidental Dairy, and a number of kittens will be distributed, Chairman John W. Ryan reported.

Anyone is eligible to enter his pet or pets in the show, but only children may compete for the prizes. Awards for the show itself include 15 trophies and prizes. For the parade four trophies are offered. In addition, first, second and third place ribbons will be presented, and dog food will be given all dog owners.

Entry fee for each animal in the pet show is 10 cents. Entries may be made on the grounds before 10 a. m. Saturday, when the show opens. A watering pan must be brought with each entry.

Judging of the animals in the show will begin in the forenoon and continue until completed. Judging of the parade will take place from a reviewer's stand on the courthouse lawn.

Immediately following the parade and while the exhibit of animals and fowls is at its height, a program will be presented, under direction of George McQueen, on a large platform to be erected on the grounds. Included will be a brief address by Mayor Paul A. McCarthy, a concert by the Olmstead band, tap dancing, demonstration by a "Seeing Eye" dog, drill by the Eagles' team, and other features.

During the day a score or more of Humane Society members, Boy Scouts and Y. M. C. A. members will be on the grounds to care for the animals, act as guides and assist generally in the show.

Contractor's Wife Dies After Collapse

DALY CITY, May 18—An autopsy was to be held late this afternoon on the body of Mrs. Edith Phillips, wife of a Daly City building contractor. She died suddenly this morning after calling a neighbor to assist her when she felt ill.

At 10:30 o'clock Mrs. Phillips called Mrs. Teresa DeSparr, saying she was ill and wished assistance. Mrs. DeSparr told Coroner William Crosby.

Mrs. DeSparr led Mrs. Phillips into the bedroom of the Phillips home, where she collapsed and died before a doctor could arrive.

Her husband, Morris Phillips, said Mrs. Phillips had been in ill health for some time.

Grass Fires Keep Departments Busy

Five week-end grass fires kept the Redwood City Fire Department busy over the week-end. Saturday afternoon blazes were extinguished at Copley and Arlington and at Birch and Whipple streets. Fires Sunday were at Cleveland near Vera at 10:45 a. m.; near the McKinley school at 11:45 a. m., and at Poplar and Woodside road at 4 o'clock.

One brush fire was reported in the unincorporated district. Saturday afternoon slashings being burned near Waterman Gap set fire to adjacent brush. The blaze was brought under control by a crew from the Saratoga Gap ranger station.

Final Approval Given Harbor Dredging Fund

City Must Match Sum To Deepen Approach To Harbor Here

Removing the last shadow of doubt over Redwood City chances of getting $94,000 in federal funds to dredge a channel from deep water to the local harbor, the United States War Department today included the sum in a $137,000,000 allotment made to improve America's rivers and harbors.

Previously virtually assured of success, according to Rep. Albert Carter of Alameda county, the allocation was made definite by the action in Washington this morning.

Word of success of the move to secure the dredging funds was received here in a telegram from Congressman John J. McGrath and in United Press and Associated Press dispatches.

FUND MUST BE MATCHED

"The war department has definitely allocated $94,000 for a 27-foot channel from deep water in San Francisco bay to the junction of Redwood Creek and West Point Slough," McGrath wired William Vielhauer, Tribune editor and secretary of the Redwood City City Council's harbor committee. "This must be matched by an equal contribution of local interests. No other conditions were attached."

It is to raise the sponsor's contribution of $94,000 that the harbor election has been called for June 11. A total of $266,000 in bonds will be voted on by local residents at that time. If the Public Works Administration or another federal agency grants $66,000 sought, bonds to the amount of only $200,000 will be issued. Of this, $94,000 will be for dredging; $106,000 for building the wharf facility, transit shed, piers, spurs and other facilities.

SPREADS OVER NATION

As a result of the War Department's allotment, thousands of jobless will find work to the accompaniment of the hiss of steam dredges and the clatter of pile drivers, according to the United Press.

Portions of the $137,000,000 will go to every nook and cranny of the nation. Allotments run from the $23,900,000 earmarked for improvement of the upper Mississippi river to a few hundred dollars for some backwater creeks.

Of the allotment, $100,452,839 will be used for new projects, like the local one, while $34,408,150 will be spent in maintaining ports and waterways which already have been improved.

OTHER PROJECTS

Included in the projects besides Redwood City's are: Oakland harbor, Calif., maintenance $54,000; Richmond harbor, Calif., new work, $57,000; San Pablo Bay and Mare Island straits, Calif., maintenance, $75,000; Plant San Francisco district, maintenance, $700,000; San Francisco district, maintenance, $24,000; Suisun Bay channel, Calif., maintenance, $22,500.

Harbor Outcome to Map Whole Future for City

(Reprint from Redwood City Tribune of May 21, 1936)

[EDITORIAL]

That step of which the pioneers dreamed—the placing of Redwood City on the trade channels of the seven seas—is here for the community to take and the enthusiasm for the harbor project indicates that this opportunity will be grasped.

This calls merely for the simple stamping of "Yes" on the $266,000 bond issue June 11, with $66,000 of that figure to be canceled when the public works bureau forwards that sum.

The federal government will provide $94,000 for dredging in Redwood City harbor; will dredge San Bruno shoals, now handicapping deep draft vessels, and will provide $16,500, the entire cost, for yearly maintenance. In other words, the city's share, if plans materialize, will be $200,000; the federal government's share $200,000 to $250,000.

Redwood City is indeed fortunate in the cheapness of its port development for it will, by this mere expenditure, do what other enterprising seaports have been able to accomplish only after investing millions of dollars. This comes about through the fact that Redwood City has a natural harbor which private and federal sources already have developed to the extent of half a million dollars.

Oakland's initial undertaking just a decade ago, for instance, cost $9,960,000, while Stockton, 88 miles from the Golden Gate, has invested $8,774,000 in its seaport. Brownsville, Tex., has just dug its way 17 miles to the sea at a cost of $5,000,000.

Concerning this advantageous position of Redwood City, H. W. Crozier, San Francisco consulting engineer who prepared the War Department-approved 1931 report, who is known for his work in the Sunnyvale dirigible and Monterey breakwater cases, and who carried out port projects in France and South America, declares:

"There is no question, with the advantage of the dredging already accomplished in past years and the favorable conditions for economical construction, that there is an opportunity in Redwood City of building the least expensive port project on lower San Francisco Bay, quality and convenience fully considered. This is an enormous advantage because it will enable the port commissioners to make very moderate charges for use of the port facilities and thereby assure an adequate volume of traffic."

The harbor funds will provide a complete going port facility, including the waterfront acreage, wharf, transit shed, parking areas and roads, railroad spurs, water supply and fire protection system, sewers, electric light and power system, engineering, legal and interest charges, promotion work on trade connections, equipment for terminal operation, and operating costs.

An impressive list of port authorities, including the highest army engineering authorities, declare the project is economically sound; that the tonnage is in sight and now moving to sea through more costly methods, and that industries, the attraction sought for the port in addition to the shipping, will seek waterfront sites once competitive transportation facilities are afforded.

Redwood City has had its heart set on becoming a seaport since its founding and nothing must thwart that fulfillment in the present movement, perhaps the last.

It behooves every citizen to become "port conscious" and to fight for the greater population, new jobs and new payrolls, increased commerce, enhanced property values, lower taxes through gaining industries to share the load with the home, and the Greater Redwood City which lies ahead in this seaport undertaking.

Vote "Yes" June 11 for payrolls, progress and prosperity.

Birmingham Named County WPA Head

Paul V. Birmingham of Santa Cruz was today named director of the San Mateo county WPA Bureau.

He succeeds B. H. Grant, who resigned last week to accept a position with a private firm in the East.

Birmingham has been a project inspector and engineer in Santa Cruz since inception of the WPA. He was graduated in engineering from Santa Clara University. He formerly lived in San Jose.

Graham Is Victor After Vote Recount

In a recount of votes for Sequoia commissioner of boys athletics, Tom Graham, varsity football and baseball player, won the position by 14 votes over Takeshi Shiba, captain of the lightweight track team, it was announced today by Donald Bogie, vice principal and dean of boys. The recount gave Graham 310 votes to Shiba's 296. This total differed by but one vote from the previous result which was declared so undecisive as to necessitate a recheck.

PORT LANDS HELD GREAT ASSET TO REDWOOD CITY

By W. L. FAIRBANKS
Industrial Harbor Engineer

The only property in San Francisco in a usable condition with wharf facilities and 24 feet of water that can be purchased is an area of six acres on Islais Creek for which a price of $3.50 per square foot—$140,000 per acre—is being asked.

Between Hunters' Point and South San Francisco the shorelands are either hilly or are distant from the bay channel.

In South San Francisco a small area of industrial land will become available upon the reclamation of marsh and submerged lands and upon the excavation of a channel to connect with the bay channel.

Between South San Francisco and San Mateo there are fairly extensive areas of undeveloped marshland, but they are over three miles distant from the bay channel.

FRONTAGE LIMITED

Between Richmond and Oakland, on the east side of the bay, are extensive tidal flats between the shore and the bay channel, and only by costly channel excavation and reclamation could any considerable areas of these lands be made available for the construction of factories on deep water.

Limited areas of waterside industrial lands are available in Oakland and Alameda. The cost of such lands in Oakland, with spur track and other facilities, varies from $14,000 to $50,000 an acre.

Between Bay Farm Island and Dumbarton Point the eastern shore is separated from the bay channel by areas of flat lands miles in width through which there are no channel connections between the shore and deep water in the bay.

Herein lies Redwood City's great opportunity which is forced upon her but one which will redound greatly to her advantage if she improves it. Industries will be forced to come to Redwood City. Why not encourage the movement and reap the reward?

Roughly estimated there are approximately 10,000 acres of solid land, marshland and water courses between Redwood City and the bay and between Ravenswood Point, which are suitable for industrial development and the construction of an industrial harbor. Much of this land is immediately available for the construction of manufacturing plants; much of it requires reclamation.

These lands constitute an asset for Redwood City which will contribute more to her welfare than any other possible factor.

No one condition is of greater importance as a city-building factor than an efficient industrial harbor where factories can be constructed at waterside. Many examples have proved it.

The harbor will attract industrial and other investments, increase the population of a community and expand its payroll, thus contributing largely to its merchandising, banking and building activities, to an increase in real estate values, and to its general prosperity.

The development of these lands must be looked upon, however, in a broad way as a public need rather than as one affecting the immediate personal interests of the owners or the local interests of the community. It is essential to the industrial and commercial development of the entire bay region.

HARBOR FIRST UNIT

The area of these marshlands is so extensive as to require a carefully considered plan for their improvement. The initial step in their development is the deeping of the channel in Redwood Creek to accommodate deep draft vessels, in order that factories located here may send their products to ship-

OLD CORPORATION YARD TO BE MADE PLAY AREA

Frame Buildings Will Be Removed to Make Way for Playground

Outline of a 5-year park and recreation and city beautification plan was ordered by the city council Monday night after Councilman James Eva declared the need of some start on this program.

As an immediate step, the council, at the suggestion of Councilman Evans Fletcher, approved the removal of the old corporation yard buildings at Chestnut street and Middlefield road and the creation of a children's playground there.

Eva's proposal calls for Acting City Manager Charles Dimmitt and City Park Superintendent George Hopkins to make a study of the beautification and park needs of Redwood City and to outline a program which the city can pursue over the next five years without too great an expense.

DEPOT, HIGHWAYS CITED

Eva cited the Southern Pacific depot property as one area which required cleaning up and also the need of beautifying the entrances to Redwood City and the highways.

Fletcher, in reporting on the removal of the freight shed from the north of Broadway location, which is part of the civic beautification plan, said the matter has hit a legal snag because of the requirement that this property be always used for railroad purposes. It was expected, however, that this could be overcome.

Fletcher, in proposing the razing of the old corporation buildings, said this would set an example for others to follow and might result in the removal of unsightly shacks about the city.

The eastside was held deficient in recreational areas, and the lot, about 100 by 150, will provide the children with a place to play other than the streets.

Fletcher proposed provision of playground facilities, and sandboxes. Dimmitt suggested construction of a cyclone fence to protect the children inside the park. Eva said the proposal could be considered as part of the first unit of the civic beautification plan.

Dimmitt said he believed a WPA program could be secured for the improvement.

The corporation yard brings but a rental of $20 per month from a second hand dealer.

The plan was unanimously approved, as was the park beautification program, upon motion of Councilman Eva, seconded by Councilman George McNulty.

side with the least transportation expense possible.

The need for deeping this channel to 27 feet and its widening to 200 feet is not only essential to the industrial development of the marshland areas, but it is essential to the highest industrial and agricultural development of the counties south of the bay.

It is based upon the economic necessity that the port of water shipment for commodities produced in this territory be brought as closely as possible to points of production, in order that unnecessary transportation and transfer charges may be eliminated and the time consumed in transit be reduced.

CHECK FORGER GOES TO JAIL

Denied probation, Joe Lema, who pleaded guilty to forging two checks in South San Francisco was sentenced by Judge A. R. Cotton today to serve a year in the county jail.

The most important measure for the control of house flies in an program is the elimination of breeding places.

Moulton Seen As Candidate

Local Resident May Seek Governorship In Recall Vote

Supporter of the present recall move against Governor Merriam, Dudley Moulton of 35 Elwood street, Redwood City, former state director of agriculture during a portion of the Rolph administration, is being considered as a gubernatorial candidate in event there should be a recall election.

According to Earl C. Behrens, San Francisco political writer, Moulton's friends are giving him serious consideration in event the 280,000 signatures to call the election are secured. The petitions have been in circulation in southern California, where they are said to have gained more than 100,000 signatures, and are now appearing in this section of the state.

Backers of the circulation of the petitions are undisclosed. Offices of the Moulton group have been established in San Francisco headquarters at 126 Post street.

Indications have been seen that the recall group is endeavoring to secure the vote on the same day as the presidential election in November. This was denied by Moulton, however. He did admit, though, that the Democrats might try to take advantage of the presidential campaign in case the recall petitions should qualify.

Thus far the Democratic state chairman, Sen. Culbert L. Olson of Los Angeles, and others who have been critics of Governor Merriam have indicated they have no interest in the recall movement.

Some of the governor's aides are reportedly becoming worried over the turn the recall petition signing has taken. However, the movement is not meeting support in many quarters, according to friends of the governor.

New Highway Suit Brought By State

Second such suit to be brought, the State of California today filed a complaint in eminent domain to determine value of 6.01 acres of the Thornton-Edgemar right-of-way over which a new state highway is now virtually completed.

Defendants in the latest action are Griffith Henshaw and William G. Henshaw. The former is sued as trustee for Hetty Henshaw, Alla H. Tanner, Florence H. Keeney and Griffith Henshaw.

Superior court is asked in the action, brought by Atty. Clarence W. Morris, to fix value of the land condemned for highway purposes. Another suit is pending against the Ocean Shore Railroad for land seized from that firm.

24-Hour Service Set For Three Areas In 6 Months

The California Railroad Commission has authorized Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to install a modern, 24-hour telephone service in the San Mateo county communities of Half Moon Bay, Sharp Park and Moss Beach.

The service will go into effect within the next six months, as soon as the new dial equipment can be installed. It will replace the old manual magneto or "crank" type of telephone which has been available to customers only during a few hours daily.

The new service will result in an increase in telephone charges of about 25 cents a month, but none of the patrons of the company offered any objections to the proposed increases during the public hearings before Railroad Commission Examiner Arthur B. Fry

MENLO PARK NEWS

This community is well represented at the Grand Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West now in session at Santa Cruz. W. H. Weeden is a delegate from Menlo Parlor, Father Thomas McKeon is attending as grand historian and Attorney J. J. McShane of Atherton is a grand officer and will be chosen second vice president at the session.

The friends of Miss Ruth Rugaard, who is well known in Menlo Park, will be pained to learn of the death of her grandfather, Mr. Butler, at Walnut Grove last Thursday. Mr. Butler was a pioneer of Sacramento county and had resided in the delta district for many years. He owned large orchards there.

The Forty Hours Devotion that commenced on Sunday ended Tuesday morning in the Church of the Nativity and was a fine success. The attendance was good during all the devotions. On Sunday the ceremonies began with a solemn high mass at which Father McKeon preached the sermon.

People have often heard of a snake in the grass but seldom have they heard of one in a parlor. Such a find was made last week in a local dwelling. The mistress of the house on returning from a shopping tour discovered a 10-inch gopher snake asleep on the rug. Her screams brought her husband to the scene. He picked up the reptile and placed it in the garden to grow up and hunt the destructive gopher.

Annual summer outing of the senior and junior boards of the Little Children's Aid was held this week at the Menlo Park home maintained by this organization. Members of the board of directors and the auxiliary board motored down for a picnic, made enjoyable by the participation of the children in the games and songs and the initiation of their new barbecue pit.

Mrs. Robert S. Moore of Atherton and Sir Thomas Hughes of Sidney, Australia, were married May 2 at the Church of the Transfiguration in New York and are now traveling in Europe, according to information received by friends in San Francisco and on the peninsula.

Historic old Mission Dolores in San Francisco was the setting Sunday afternoon for the marriage of Miss Josephine Molteni and Mr. Edwin Reynolds, both of Menlo Park. The nuptial vows were read in the presence of only relatives and close friends of the couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Molteni of Menlo Park. Mr. Reynolds, son of Mrs. Mary Reynolds and nephew of Mr. George Walsh, both of Menlo Park, is an employe of Neuman Brothers in Woodside. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds attended Sequoia Union High School.

The newlyweds are enjoying a wedding trip to Southern California from which they will return to make their home in Redwood City.

The marriage of Miss Mercedes Schibo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schibo of Menlo Park, to Sumner Caldwell, Jr., of Burlingame took place Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the parish house of the Church of the Nativity, Menlo Park. The Rev. Father Thomas McKeon officiated in the presence of a few relatives and friends.

After a wedding trip to Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will establish their home in Burlingame, where the bridegroom's family is prominent in business and social life. He is an employe of a San Francisco wholesale stationery firm. Mrs. Caldwell attended Sequoia Union High School.

Miss Winifred Green entertained at a swimming party at her parents' home in Menlo Park Saturday afternoon, later taking her guests to the country dinner dance given by Miss Marjorie Tight in Woodside.

A 1,040-pound striped marlin swordfish, caught off Tahiti in 1930 by Zane Grey, is the largest fish landed by rod and reel which appears in attested records.

Beach Parley Slated In S. F. Next Month

A San Francisco conference on beach problems was planned at the week-end meeting in Santa Monica of the California Beaches Association, Giles B. Johnson, county right-of-way agent, and R. Guy Smith, planning commission member, who attended, reported here today.

The session will be held next month, and legislation which would provide for acquisition and development of beaches will be considered, Johnson said.

Interesting papers on various subjects were read by many of the 100 in attendance at Santa Monica.

Man's Arm Broken When Car Upsets

Charles Anderson, 71, suffered a fractured right upper arm when his automobile overturned at 8 o'clock Wednesday near Emerald Lake, according to hospital reports. Anderson, who lives at 1207 Heller street, was given emergency treatment by a Redwood City doctor and then was taken to the Community Hospital at San Mateo.

PEACH RECIPES

PEACH CREAM TART

1 No. 2 can peaches, ¼ cup sugar, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon corn starch, pie pastry.

Drain the peaches and put the juice over the fire with the sugar. When it boils, add the corn starch blended with milk. Line a pie plate with pastry and arrange the peaches in it, pour the peach cream over them and bake until pastry is done.

STUFFED PEACHES

Take large halves of canned peaches and drain them well. Arrange halves on a serving plate, cavity side up, and into each put a little of the syrup from preserved ginger. Whip one cup of cream stiff, sweeten to taste, and add two or three tablespoons of very finely chopped preserved ginger to it, and ½ cup finely chopped walnut beats. Mix well and fill the hollows of the peaches heaping full of the cream. Garnish with slices of ginger and pieces of nut meats. Chill and serve with plain cake or cookies.

Winds Bring Boat Troubles

Four Tossed in Water Near Dumbarton; All Rescued

Marine troubles which overtook 17 people in seven boats in the bay region Sunday affected four youths in the bay near the San Mateo county shore.

Despite the large toll of disaster due principally to brisk winds, all 17 people were rescued, three of them with the aid of a transport plane piloted by E. L. Remlin, who was accompanied by Joe Krouch. The plane was Oakland-bound from Mills Field when it spotted three people clinging to an overturned boat.

When the plane landed at Oakland, Remlin and Krouch quickly inflated two airplane tire inner tubes and took off again. They headed for the distressed craft, zoomed low and dropped the inflated tubes as life preservers. The zooming plane attracted Rodney J. McNamara of San Francisco, cruising in his power boat, and he rescued the trio: Marjorie Haynke, 28; Melvina Gallinatti, 27, both of Berkeley, and Arnold Maier, San Francisco. They had been in the water three and a half hours.

In the local mishaps, four San Jose youths, Elliott Orr, 18; Raymond Orr, 15; Edward Helscher, 16, and Philip Donahue, 16, were rescued after a half hour of clinging to their overturned skiff near Dumbarton bridge. The quartet were picked up by the launch Albatross and returned to Alviso from where they had sailed in the morning in a skiff borrowed from Chief of Police E. D. Bacigalupi.

Three other boys drifted for hours near Hunter's Point when the motor of their boat stalled. One of the youths was taken off by Dr. L. M. Rose of Santa Clara and left at Palo Alto harbor. There he was met by his parents and they secured another boat to rescue the other two. Their names could not be learned.

Scheduled originally for Tuesday afternoon, preliminary hearing of Paul A. Riese, local stationer, on morals charges has been postponed a week, Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis said today. In lieu of $1,000 cash bail, Riese is being held in the county jail.

Estimates place the Indian population of America, at the time of Columbus' voyage, at approximately 850,000.

Lawyer Files Protest Over One-Man Cars

Declaring he "would rather walk to my place of employment in the financial district than ride your street cars under the circumstances," Atty. Wilfred J. McKeegan of Redwood City has filed with the Market Street Railway an official protest to use of one-man street cars in San Francisco. A copy of McKeegan's letter of protest was sent to the board of supervisors.

Reconsideration of the railway's action for its own good "to prevent loss of patronage" is asked by McKeegan.

The local supervisors already have directed protests to the impending change in street car service to the San Francisco board and to the State Railroad Commission.

RADIO ANNOUNCER CITED

Patrolman Frank Chevalier reported today that Ernest M. Smith, San Francisco radio announcer, had been cited by him Friday for passing another machine on the right side while traveling at 42 miles an hour. Smith is to appear before Justice Hugh Mullin in San Mateo. The alleged offense occurred on the Bayshore highway near Pacific City.

Eight-year-old Virginia Weidler's modesty almost nipped her movie career in the bud. When Virginia was three, she refused to play a part because she had to remove her stockings in front of the camera.

McCamey, Tex., held Texas' first rattlesnake derby as a feature of the tenth birthday of the oil town.

It is predicted that more than 200,000 people will use air transportation for the first time during 1936.

Redwood City Tribune
Redwood City, California

Gentlemen:

We are sure that you and the many readers of your progressive newspaper will be interested in learning of the increase in Mobilgas sales in the Redwood City district in 1935 over 1934.

These records of business advance constitute a most convincing answer to two questions, namely: 1 — Is business moving forward in Redwood City? 2 — Is advertising in the Redwood City Tribune a paying investment?

Redwood City sales of MOBILGAS - our advertised brand of gasoline - run as high as four to one over those of our cheaper grade. Growing demand for our advertised products has resulted in a gratifying gain in General Petroleum dealers in Redwood City area within the past year.

The above information, furnished by Mr. W. H. Schetter, district manager, and Mr. B. A. Muir, branch manager, tells its own dramatic story of the effectiveness of our advertising campaign, wherein the Redwood City Tribune has been employed as the major medium in your fast growing city.

Our advertising expenditure in Redwood City has been attracted to your publication because of its complete coverage of the community,- this of course being the important factor in a campaign advertising any products so widely used as gasoline and motor oil.

Yours very truly,

Mrs. McCarthy Disputes Costs Of Court Action

Having lost court decisions both in Redwood City and in San Diego within the past two weeks, Mrs. Mayzellia Ann Thompson McCarthy of San Mateo has filed an action in superior court to avoid paying $18 of the costs of the local suit.

Mrs. McCarthy, who tried vainly here to have her 1918 divorce decree from the late Dr. Charles F. McCarthy vacated, asserts in her notice of motion in opposition to tax costs that the $18 are "improper charges" against her.

The charges include $12.50 for court reporter fees, $3 for serving of three subpenaes, $2 for four notary fees to affidavits which were not filed, and 50 cents for a certified copy of a receipt—costs incurred by Dr. McCarthy's estate, represented by Mrs. Kate Schwerin of Oakland, his sister, as administratrix. Atty. R. A. Rogers filed the papers.

Hearing on this latest motion of Mrs. McCarthy was set for Monday, June 1, at 10 a. m. before Judge A. R. Cotton.

Mrs. McCarthy last week in San Diego was denied previlege of probating a will of her former husband which bequeathed her part of his estate. Instead, the will offered by Mrs. Schwerin was admitted to probate. It divided his $125,000 estate equally between Mrs. Schwerin; Francis McCarthy, his son, and Charlotte Morrow, his housekeeper.

Menu Flashes by Joan Andrews

In every market you pass now, you'll see big baskets of gleaming, red cherries. Their season is short, so make the most of it. For a delicious cherry dessert, make your usual rich biscuit dough, adding a little sugar to the dry ingredients. Roll the dough out ¼-inch thick, and spread with melted butter. Cover with two cups of pitted, drained cherries which have been mixed with one cup of sugar. Roll up the dough and cut in ¾-inch slices. Place in shallow pan containing a thin sugar syrup, and bake about twenty minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Don't be afraid to serve milk at the same meal with cherries. The theory that milk and cherries were antagonistic has been exploded. Your children should have their quart of Golden State milk every day, at meals and between meals. Golden State milk is rich with cream, and rich in all those body-building elements youngsters need.

Inquiry Ordered Into S. F. Police MolestingCharge

A "thorough investigation" of charges made by S. A. Chappat of Bayshore City that he was "molested" by San Francisco police and that "they" fined him $10 for possession of a machine in his cafe although it is located in San Mateo countywas promised the board of supervisors today by Theodore J. Roche, president of the San Francisco officers brought Roche's assurance that he was "referring the matter to Chief of Police William J. Quinn for a thorough investigation."

The matter had been called to Roche's attention by the board of supervisors.

Two S. M. Fires Give Department Action

SAN MATEO, May 18.—Two fires, one in the Borden Creamery and another in an empty building, gave San Mateo firemen week-end excitement.

The fire in the untenanted building, a former grocery store owned by Peter Basso of San Mateo, was started by two children, a girl, 3, and a boy, 6, playing with matches. They set fire to a rubbish pile in the back of the house and flames scorched the rear wall and stairway before firemen extinguished the blaze.

A motor on an ice machine caught fire in the Borden plant late Saturday night. A passer-by noticed the smoke and turned in the alarm. Approximately $100 damage was done to the motor.

Supervisors Attend Eureka Convention

Four of San Mateo county's five supervisors were in Eureka today for start of the annual state supervisorial convention. At the meeting, which is being attended by Supervisors Manuel Francis, Albert Witt, John Poole and Fred Beer, subjects to be broached by the local delegation will include proposals to return the state highway patrol and billboard control to counties, and to seek federal aid to solve beach erosion problems.
